There is more to establishing a school than we realize. First of all, it must be conceived in the mind of someone. The idea must be sponsored, publicized, and organized. The funds necessary must be provided; all the endless business details arranged. The school, when completed, must be equipped and staffed in a way that will attract students. Above all, this school and its student body must be imbued with the aim of a supernatural goal, without which no institution can be successful. To Bishop Noll, who established our Central Catholic High School, the Senior Class of 1951 wishes to say a sincere "thank you."

The Accomplishments of C. C. During 1950-1951

The ECHO can present nothing more than an objective pictorial review of the past school year. It will record some of our triumphs as well as our achievements. Yet it is difficult to put in words or pictures the great good which each individual student has gained through his studies and associations in a Catholic environment. The enrollment of 1275 students at C. C. is a large percentage of the Catholic students of high school age living in and around Fort Wayne. For four years they have an opportunity of associating with other Catholic boys and girls from the community. The effects of this united Catholic education will be felt in the coming years, as the graduates of C. C. eventually assume their rightful position as the leaders of the Catholic lay apostolate.

Auxiliary Bishop of Fort Wayne

With all the splendor of the historic ritual of the Church, and with a concourse of dignitaries seldom seen by the Catholic lay people of Fort Wayne, the Most Rev. Leo A. Pursley, D.D., was consecrated as the first Auxiliary Bishop of the Diocese of Fort Wayne Tuesday morning, September 19, 1950. The Most Rev. Amleto Giovanne Cicognani, D.D., Apostolic Delegate to the United States, elevated Bishop Pursley, pastor of St. John the Baptist Church, Fort Wayne, to the fullness of the Priesthood at the consecration Mass. The students of Central Catholic salute Bishop Pursley and offer their felicitations in dedicating the 1951 ECHO to him, along with their wishes for a long and fruitful administration.

Faculty

A school does not exist without a faculty. Sometimes the students wish it could, because they do not realize all that the faculty does for them. Our whole life in school is planned down to the last detail by the faculty members. The surprising part is that the majority of our faculty members do not "bother" with us merely because it is their job; they do it because they love God so much they see Him in every one of us, and feel that what they do for the least of us, they do for Him. We have the best faculty in the world, because they have the most sublime motive. They don't know that we know this, but we do. To them, we say a heartfelt "thanks."

Administration

REV. FREDERICK J. WESTENDORF

Director

An assembly? Father Westendorf will be there! We'll be sure to hear one of his inspiring talks. We don't see half as much of him as we would like, but he puts us in the right direction when he is here. Father sees to it that the spiritual, intellectual, and physical needs of each student are supplied. We, the Seniors, feel that we could not have had a better director, nor a more understanding friend.

SISTER CHARLOTTE

Principal

Sister Charlotte, our Principal, will be remembered by the students for her wise and prudent direction. In fulfilling her post, she has helped us through innumerable difficulties. We wish to express our deepest thanks to Sister for the assistance she has given us. As we leave C. C., we realize that Sister has prayed for us and gently guided us in ways we never before noticed. Her gentle kindness will be a pleasing memory to us.

RT. REV. MONSIGNOR CHARLES J. FELTES

Treasurer

Monsignor Feltes has managed the school's finances with the highest efficiency during the past thirteen years. Monsignor, who is also in charge of the Blessed Sacrament Chapel, has arranged the Honor Guard of Adoration in which the Veronica Guild and Senior girls participate. Furthermore, he has found time to continue his course on the Sacrament of Matrimony for the Juniors. To Monsignor Feltes goes the heartfelt "Thanks" of the class of '51.

"He who laughs last, sits in the last row." These were the famous last words of Bob Vachon, when found sitting in a back seat in sociology class, 303.

The Polar Bear Club will soon be scouting Sally Sherbondy and Pat Centlivre. They were spotted swimming in the icy waters of the Rome City Lake, November 1.

Providing background music for Sister Petra's Latin class is the favorite pursuit of Mike Roach. But the other day Sister heard him. Mike now intends to postpone his career indefinitely.

"Into Meyer's to buy a coke,

He bought her a coke,
And then he was broke,
So a nickel, he was lent."

It seems that one hole in a test tube isn't enough for Marilyn Todd. She has been seen boring holes in them, with the aid of a stirring rod.

Refreshments must be served in room 305 during history class, Father Vichuras started class one day with the grace before meals.

If he'd known she was coming, he'd shaved. Tony Martone was caught in Civics, 303, with a 10:49 shadow, when one of Sister Mary Regina's little St. Francis girls came to lecture on Catholic education. He says it will never happen again.

Karen Keefer is allergic to typewriters; instead of her fingers dancing lightly over the keys, Karen's typewriter danced lightly over the table onto the floor.

The "Roving Boys", Dick Waltemath and Bob Bakle will probably be signing a contract with Mitch Miller after their recent rendition of the "Roving Kind" in Spanish Class.

When asked to give the future tense of the verb "amo" in the first person singular, passive voice, Jim Huntine quickly replied, "Am-a-bor". Sister Charlotte asked, "Are you?"

In French class when the members were hanging posters on the walls, Sylvia Loney piped up with, "Sister, where is the French tape?"

Dick Heiny during a recent Religion class was asked when murder is not a sin. He answered, "In self-defense, in time of war, and in 'sports'."

When Jim Lothamer was asked who he thought would have made the better president, Lincoln or Douglas, he answered, "Douglas." Sister Regina then asked, "Why?" He stated proudly, "Because he was a DEMOCRAT."

Classes

Classes are one of the reasons why we come to school. They are the very backbone of our school life. In class, we are equipped to meet the world, morally and intellectually. We are trained in the Eternal Law, and our characters are molded. We learn to assimilate, digest, and make a permanent part of our minds the knowledge we gain, and to remember that we learn as long as we live. For the Seniors, "formal instruction" is ended, and we go forward in life, armed with what we have acquired in our classes and through our associations with our classmates.

Senior Class History

Few of us realized, when we were scared Freshmen taking our first sneak preview at high school life, that we would one day be Seniors, bravely trying to hide that inevitable tear that pops up when we bid our high school days good-bye. As Sophomores, we marveled at the make-up of a bug or how a germ looked. In our Junior year, we presented our Junior Dance, "Dreamers Holiday," issued our first edition of the Shamrock, and purchased our sparkling class rings. Now, we are Seniors—Seniors with more responsibilities. Max Roesler was chosen as our president, and John Becker was our Football King. Vivacious Gerry Getty reigned at our Prom. Once more we brush away that persistent tear of joy and sorrow. It's wonderful to be out on our own and yet we are unwilling to say good-bye to our happy secure moments of high school life.

MOST ATHLETIC PHIL AND MAGGIE

"Come on Maggie", is a familiar cry heard in the gym during Intramurals, after school, and almost any time Maggie can get in the gym. Ladonna Magsamen is a real G.A.A. booster, and has been a loyal member all of her years at Central Catholic. Phil Ehrman, one of Central Catholic's best athletes, proved to be very valuable to the school during his four years as a student here. Taking part in football and basketball was not all that Phil did. He also walked off with many honors in track. Yes, the choice of Most Athletic went to two very deserving students.

Carole Murphy

WELL DRESSED BOB AND MARY

Among our noted seniors we have Mary Hatcher and Bob Vachon who were voted as best dressed. Mary finds time to keep on friendly terms with everyone, which has won for her the honor of being chosen as Prom Attendant. Bob's activities throughout the school are greatly enhanced by the soft pattering of saddle oxfords and the glowing tones of cashmere sweaters. The pleasant personalities of both Mary and Bob will be long remembered.

MOST CO-OPERATIVE RONALD AND ROSE MARIE

Rose Marie Hart and Ronald Baker, chosen as most co-operative, have certainly more than earned their title. Rose Marie has served as class officer each of her four years, holds the position of Editor-in-Chief of the "Shamrock", and is a member of Quill and Scroll—National Honor Society for High School Journalists. Ronald, a member of the Band and Orchestra, holds the position of Band Lieutenant. Ron is also a very capable member of the Science Club and a four year honor student. The many votes awarded to them, have caused us to readily agree—the R's have it.

Joan Miles

FRIENDLY ONES BOB AND CAROLE

We are greeted often by Carole Murphy and Bob Heintzelman with a friendly smile and a cheery "Hi". These two happy Seniors have always been friendly to all. Both participate in school activities whole-heartedly. Carole served her class as Secretary in her Junior year, while Bob has made many friends for himself. Both Carole and Bob should do very well in life with their happy dispositions, and their gay, friendly manner.

Arlene Kiel

GENTLE PEOPLE DICK AND CAROLE

In addition to the many outstanding students of Central Catholic, we are proud to present two refined and courteous students, Dick Elward and Carole Briggeman. Upon them we bestow the title as being the "Most Gentlemanly and Ladylike." These students are active in the Glee Club, Dramatics Club, and Student Spiritual Council. During the past year, Dick was elected a senior class officer and Carole was chosen as a prom attendant. They have set a good example for C. C. which we hope will continue through future years. Our sincere congratulations to these "1951" classmates.

"It's a Great Day

Memories of past years are fondly brought to mind as the seniors of C. C. march down the aisle to their last assembly. This assembly is not, in any respect, to be compared to the many other pep sessions, Student Spiritual Council, and Mission meetings. No, this one carries a more serious note. It is our last chance to be together as the Senior student body. It is a dignified and solemn occasion. Yet, there is room for joy and happiness in the hearts of every boy and girl. Joy, because as we think back on our school days, we must admit that they were pleasant and happy days. Solemnity, because it will be our last opportunity to be together as an entire group. Graduation day will be an outstanding day in the lives of all seniors. Not only here at C. C., but in any other high school. Every graduating senior in the United States will be doing the same as we.

1951 has been marked as an important year to the seniors. We introduced new assemblies and meetings, always under very capable leadership. We have formed new organizations. Most important of all, we have acquired new friends. Many of these companions will remain close to us throughout life; many, too, we will never see again. As we go through life in whatever occupation we have chosen, let us always remember our teachers and our friends as those who helped make us what we are. At Mass on Graduation day we pray for our success in meeting the world of today and its battle of hardships and pleasures. We pray, also for our parents. This is their day, too. After all, where would we be if they had not advised and counseled us through our school days? After our Baccalaureate Mass we have our Mothers' Club to thank for the Senior breakfast. Each graduate will have his mother as his guest. Classmates, we have a world to conquer. It is our job to keep this generation strong in mind and body. As you march down the aisles of C. C., keep in mind that you can do something worthwhile, and with God's help, will.

Junior Class History

In their first year as upper-classmen, the Juniors elected Al Pickavet as their president. They became club conscious, joined the Dramatics Club, and proved themselves trick artists by appearing in its annual play, "Meet Me in St. Louis." Joining the Science Club proved that sometimes all that glitters is not gold. Publishing the Junior issue of the Shamrock, made them aware of the printed word. They made a grand success of their Junior Dance and were outstanding on both the gridiron and hardwood. "It was great fun being Juniors, but it will be even better next year, when we're Seniors." This seems to be the opinion of the energetic class of '52'.

Sophomore Class

With Rose Ann Dirig as their president, the Sophs have proved that they are no longer "greenies". They have given helpful support in the line of athletics. The Basketball Reserve Team, which is composed largely of Sophomores, has shown great promise. They also gave solid padding to the Football Team. Being well-represented on the honor roll, and giving avid support to all extra-curricular activities, they had the true C. C. spirit. Now, having completed their role as "underclassmen", the Sophomores are ready, willing, and able to try to bring greater honor and glory to C. C. We all feel that they will do as well in years to come as in this past year.

Freshman Class History

The young but very much in earnest Freshman class have pledged and proved themselves worthy students of C. C. Perhaps their president, Jane Hart, was the charge of dynamite which sent them over the top in several of the drives sponsored by the school organizations. It was very evident that they made that old "debil" Honor Roll sit up and take notice of their good marks. The coaches, too, were pleased at the number and the talent of the Freshmen responding to their calls for the Freshmen football and basketball teams, for these boys played some very good games.

Clubs

Clubs are groups of students who gather to work, play, and exchange ideas, under the supervision of an adviser. Club meetings are where we learn, discuss, plan, and perform. At C. C. we have a large variety of clubs and organizations. The student may choose to learn about and take part in languages, science, dramatics, journalism, music, or spiritual subjects; and have a good time doing it. Clubs make our regular curriculum much more interesting, because they give us opportunities to meet our fellow students outside of class, to pursue a subject we are interested in, to receive extra help from our adviser along special lines, and to contribute our bit, no matter how small, to the program.

THE CONCERT BAND—MR. JOSEPH WOODS, DIRECTOR

The Concert Band, under the direction of Mr. Joseph M. Woods, has proven to be a source of enjoyment and fine entertainment for the students of C. C. They take great pride in their band, and well they might, for this group has turned out many excellent concerts. Besides the annual concert in February, the band also enters district and state competition festivals and has brought many honors to the school. Last spring the band won first place in a sight-reading contest at Laporte, Indiana. Individual awards were won by students participating in the solo and ensemble contest.

THE ORCHESTRA—MR. JOSEPH WOODS, DIRECTOR

The Central Catholic High School Symphony, under the baton of Mr. Joseph Woods, has tried hard to please its concert audiences while teaching an appreciation for good music. The Orchestra began its season early by appearing in a combined concert, "Music For You", in opening the Catholic Evidence Lecture Series. The Orchestra again sponsored the Football Dance and helped with the rest of the Music Department to promote a Catholic magazine subscription drive. The Orchestra members claimed their share of honors this year in the solo, ensemble contests, and the group contest for the entire orchestra.

"When Irish Eyes Are Smiling"

THE GLEE CLUB—MR. JOHN YONKMAN, DIRECTOR

The largest organized group of students in Central Catholic, the Glee Club, draws better than one out of every ten Irish. It is divided into two class periods; and consists of Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors who can measure up to its strict requirements. From its ranks are selected the soloists, the popular Choral Ensemble, and the Memorial Chapel Choir. Under the able direction and guidance of Mr. Yonkman, the Glee Club's artistry, presentation, and popularity have increased steadily. The aim of this organization is enjoyment of the best in Religious and secular music for all.

Mr. John Yonkman came to Fort Wayne four years ago to assume the duties of organist and choirmaster at the Cathedral. This friendly gentleman also undertook the direction of the Central Catholic Chorus. Despite the fact that the Glee Club has greatly increased in size, Mr. Yonkman still devotes many hours each week to teaching its members the fundamentals of music. When it comes to directing a chorus, Mr. Yonkman has what it takes: perseverance, patience, and personality.

THE JUNIOR DANCE

This year, under the capable direction of Al Pickavet and his committee, the Junior class presented its annual dance. Couples danced to the smooth tempo of the orchestra, or occasionally sat on the sidelines, enjoying a talk with their friends. The final strains of music have faded, but the Junior Dance will always recall many pleasant memories to those who attended. The theme of the Junior Dance was, "Thinking of You."

Meet Me in Saint Louis

The World's Fair, with all its beauty and gayness, and the sadness of the Smith family moving to New York, were the themes of the fall play. "Meet Me In Saint Louis," presented by the Dramatics Club, was an unforgettable success. The hilarious comedy brought laughs and tense excitement to the audience. At the close of the final curtain, the prop and costumes were stored away but the thrills and memories shall remain. The play was under the direction of Miss Helen Riordan of St. Francis College.

Under the capable leadership of their moderator, the Seniors were given aptitude tests to help them determine in what general fields their interests lie. Those students planning to attend college were given helpful pointers on all phases of college life. A course on religious vocations was offered to interested Senior girls. The great emphasis placed on both the Christopher and the Lay Apostolate movements encouraged students to bring Christian principles to their field of work.

Office Workers

"Pardon me, could you please tell me where room 303 is?" That is a question often asked of an office worker by a stranger. It is up to the office worker to direct him to the room he is seeking. Every period of the day, different students help out in the office by running errands, delivering mail, filling ink bottles, selling Sunday Visitors, and sometimes answering the telephone. Office workers not only help out the Sisters and priests, but they also meet a lot of new friends.

St. Francis Xavier Mission Unit

Moderator: Sister Gertrude Helene

The Mission Unit here at C. C. is part of the Catholic Students Mission Crusade. Under the direction of Sister Gertrude Helene it has done much to aid the missions. Aside from the regular collection taken up every two weeks, the Unit has many other activities. Christmas cards were sold in the homerooms. A stamp drive was held and the cancelled stamps were sold. In February the Unit sold hearts on tag day.

Student's Spiritual Council

Moderator: Sister Louise

Under the capable leadership of Sister Louise, the Student's Spiritual Council inaugurated class assemblies this year for discussions of such vital matters as curtailing the sale of indecent literature and the wearing of modest formals. In January, 970 C. C. students took the pledge of the Fighting 69th under the direction of Father Conroy. The Student's Spiritual Council has accomplished much this year, and should continue to give spiritual direction to C. C. students in future years.

The Dramatics Club

Moderator: Father O'Connor

The Dramatics Club provided the student body with many moments of entertainment. This was brought about by the hard work of the members of the club and the kind assistance of their moderator, Father O'Connor. The two annual plays, along with several humorous and colorful skits, provided the members with ample opportunities to display their talent. The members have all agreed that it is more fun being an "actor" than merely a spectator in the audience.

Pat Ryan

The Spanish Club

Moderator: Sister Loretta Anne

When the Spanish Club meets, short plays are enacted, songs are sung, and stories are told in the Spanish language. One of the major projects of the year is the exchange of letters with boys and girls from Spanish speaking countries. These letters, which are always interesting, give practice in reading and writing Spanish. With the co-operation of the officers and members, the Spanish Club has completed another successful year.

Latin Club

Moderator: Sister M. Austin

The Latin Club functions somewhat as the ancient Roman state. Meetings are presided over by a consul; the scribe takes the minutes, and the quaestor, or treasurer, collects the dues. This year the class studied Virgil's Aeneid, an epic poem dealing with the downfall of Troy and the wanderings of the hero Aeneas. At the club meetings quizzes and a treasure hunt, with clues in Latin, helped to increase our knowledge of classical Latin.

Jo Ann Brunner

French Club

Moderator: Sister Marie Helen

Under the supervision of Sister Marie Helen, the aim of the French Club is to acquaint the members with French culture and civilization. To carry out this aim the members contribute information about French instructions, literature, art, and customs. One activity of the club members is corresponding with high school pupils in France. In joining the International Friendship League, the students try to contribute toward building a world of "closer unity, more perfect charity, and more lasting peace."

Quill and Scroll

Moderator: Sister Myra

Quill and Scroll is a society for high school journalists, which requires its members to fulfill certain points under the quantity and quality of published material. Because it is a national honor society, its members must be conspicuous for scholarship and good citizenship. To assure the maintenance of these high standards, each candidate must have the approval of at least three of his teachers at the time of his reception into the society in May.

Audrey Hessler

Red Cross

Moderator: Sister Francis Jerome

As in past years, the students of Central Catholic enrolled 100% in the American Junior Red Cross membership drive. Sister Francis Jerome noted that the Seniors especially gave excellent support. The chief activity this year was the making of stuffed dolls and other toys for the orphans and needy children at Christmas time. Although the Red Cross is one of the less active organizations, it has done its charitable work well.

The Veronica Guild

Moderator: Sister Agnes Raphael

Like Veronica, this organization has as its sole aim a humble and devoted service to Our Lord. The Guild is in charge of the housekeeping and adoration in the new Memorial Chapel. Whether it is adoration in the chapel, dusting the altar, or laundering the linens it is done eagerly and lovingly. Only upperclassmen have the privilege of adoration during study periods, but all members have an opportunity of paying homage to their Lord in the Blessed Sacrament Chapel.

Sue Centlivre

Science Club

Moderators: Sister Miriam Joseph and Mary Agnita

The Science Club is open to science minded students of the Junior and Senior classes. The students must pass an entrance examination, which is a test of their scientific reading ability. Members are also required to present a demonstration at one of the monthly meetings, and a project at the annual spring exhibition. The exhibits are of biological, chemical, or physical nature, and are set up in the three science laboratories.

The Shamrock

The Shamrock has tried to give to C. C. students the fundamentals of Catholic journalism, namely writing which is newsworthy, intelligent, and thought-provoking. Under the guidance of Sister Michael and then Sister Myra, the Shamrock has been striving to retain its CSPA, Quill and Scroll, and NSPA ratings. On the lighter side, our readers have been introduced to the cartoon antics of Willie Live, and the ace reporting of Eye-Cue McCscoop. The staff hopes they have done justice to the high standards set by the Shamrock in former years, and have set an even higher standard for future staffs.

The most popular meeting place for many C. C. students at noon is the cafeteria. They also sell popcorn, candy, ice cream and cokes at the basketball games.

The Echo

You wanted it; we hope we have adequately supplied your demand. The distribution of the Echo is the event most anticipated by the students. The year-book has taken over eight months to publish, for it includes the entire happenings of the school year. It required hard work and untiring effort from the staff, although we will never forget the fun and excitement we have had in making the Echo possible. Unfortunately, the value of materials has increased greatly year by year, forcing us to raise the price of the book. But the accuracy and understanding with which it presents the students and their activities is, we feel, worth the price. The staff wishes to thank the faculty and student body for their cooperation in publishing the Echo. Those who solicited ads and patrons made an important contribution. Special mention should be made of the fine group and activity pictures taken by Bill Federspiel. Whether or not we have accomplished our aim, remains to be seen. For in the years after graduation; it is our sincere hope that this Echo will bring back fond memories of the 1951 school year.

The Staff at Work

Since the Echo does not have an office, the staff must make use of any available table or room in the school. Despite the physical shortcomings, the staff members have found ways and means of financing and producing an outstanding yearbook. Most of the work is done at home.

Designing the Yearbook

The initial meeting of the Echo staff to design and plan the yearbook took place in September at the home of the editor, Rosemary Racht. The remaining staff meetings were merely interruptions during the 305 religion class.

Our Athletic Director, Football Coach, and Co-Captains, John Becker and Phil Ehrman, accepted the Kiwanis Award at a special dinner.

Athletics

Kiwanis Club Banquet

The Irish gridiron squad was presented the city championship trophy at a banquet given annually by the Kiwanis Club of Fort Wayne. The co-captains, John Becker and Phil Ehrman represented the squad in accepting the award which must be won successively three times for permanent possession. Central has the only other claim to the trophy, having copped the city title in '49. In view of our promising reserve strength and excellent coaching staff it looks as if the award may have a permanent home here at Central Catholic. The Andersonmen were also feted at banquets given by Purdue, Notre Dame, and Xavier Universities.

The 1950 Football Season

"On to state!" This was the cry echoing from the C. C. fans. In compiling the high school football statistical record in the state of Indiana, the C. C. eleven not only captured their first city title, but were recognized as one of five teams having claim to the mythical state championship. Displaying clocklike precision in the perfect balance of a huge line and speedy backfield, the Andersonmen maintained an offensive point average of 36.8 and a defensive point average of 3.7 while winning ten contests and losing none. Highlighting the season was the winning of our first city championship and the breaking of the South Side "jinx." That victory marked the second time that we have defeated the Archers in the gridiron history of C. C. Directed by Fordy Anderson in his second year as the Irish head coach, the Irish were welded into a formidable lineup that whipped every opponent, except Goshen, by at least three touchdowns. Much credit is also due to Bill Dileo and Jack Quinn, whose excellent work with the line and reserves were very beneficial to the team. Last but not least, we offer our congratulations to each individual member of the squad for their excellent cooperation and sportsmanship in bringing this great honor to C. C.

The Coaches

All during the year there can be found in the halls of Central Catholic at least one individual with a look of concern written across his face. This will be Fordy Anderson, football coach, Paul Miller, basketball coach, or Jack Quinn, track coach. Coach Anderson brought to C. C. its first city championship, and a claim on the mythical state championship by coaching the Irish through an undefeated season.

Congratulations Coach Anderson. Mr. Paul Miller experienced a very discouraging season, with his basketball team. Despite this fact, the student body is looking forward to a better year. Mr. Jack Quinn, who assists in football and basketball, has been bringing track into the limelight here at Central Catholic. Last year he took our mile relay team to the state finals.

C. C.'s "Fighting Irish" inaugurated their 1950 grid campaign by tripping a highly favored South Bend Washington eleven 27-6. Featuring a powerful line in front of a speedy backfield the Andersonmen tallied four times. They consisted of sprints of 49 and 5 yards, a nifty pass from Harold Duke to Tony Martone, and a 2-yard plunge by Acy Chandler. Herm Kroemer copped the scoring for C. C. by converting three out of four placements.

Vicious blocking and hard tackling featured the Central contest, which the Irish copped by a score of 20-0. Driving with relentless fury, the Irish backs tallied three times in the first half and then played a scoreless duel with the Tigers the remaining periods. The Irish TD's came on a 6-yard thrust by Bob Brown, a 4-yard plunge by Acy Chandler, and a pass interception by Phil Ehrman.

Running its victory string to seven games, the undefeated Irish dropped a courageous Redskin eleven 33-6. Employing the end run to advantage, the Andersonmen piled up huge chunks of yardage which eventually led to touchdowns. Acy Chandler, the Sophomore sensation, highlighted the contest by scoring twice—one on an eight-yard end run and again on a one-yard plunge.

On a muddy gridiron, the Irish finally broke the South Side jinx as they defeated the hapless Archers 46-12. Held to a 6-6 deadlock in the first half, the Irish cut loose with a barrage of touchdowns to wallop the Green and White. Chief offensive star for the Andersonmen was Bob Brown, a flashy fullback who threaded his way through the Archer defense for TDs on sprints of 80 yards and 89 yards, respectively.

Track Team

Track, unlike other major athletics, is not a team sport but a man-to-man contest where the individual rises above the team in acquiring glory for himself and his school. Through the coaching of Jack Quinn, this activity is gradually coming into its own right as a major sport at C. C. Its future was enhanced by the stellar performances of Bob Brown, Phil Ehrman, Dan Rondot and Don Rushin who formed a mile-relay combine which traveled to the state finals last year.

Monogram Winners

The Athletic Department, in order to acknowledge the achievements of the school's outstanding athletes, awards these boys monograms and sweaters as a token of the school's esteem. Football, basketball, and track men are all represented in the ranks of the winners. The next time you see one of the boys sporting his purple sweater and gold monogram, remember that he has earned it. It took many long, hard hours to merit recognition.

The 1951 Basketball Season

Although not too consistent as winners, the Irish could never be counted out in any game, because they refused to just "lay down and play dead." They played their hearts out in every game, and would not concede a thing to any team regardless of superior odds. Despite a poor beginning, the Purple wound up with an 8 won and 10 lost record. Sophomore Tom Neuman and Junior Gordon Dodane saw much varsity action, and show great promise for next year's team. Highlight of the season was the South Side thriller won by C. C., 49 to 44. The game was one of those nip-and-tuck affairs with tension mounting as it progressed. Max Roesler was high point man in the game with an average of 17 points. This was the first time since 1941 that C. C. has defeated the Archers. On the whole C. C. looked better against the Archers than they have all season. They were a tighter ball club all the way, making few errors, and working like a team. The victory over South truly was a happy ending to a hot and cold season.

C. C. H. S. Marching Band

This year the Marching Band has set new standards of excellence both in marching and musical performance. In addition, a note of color has been added by the new uniforms. At the important games, the Band's half time shows have helped to furnish the students with winning spirit. The Band also adds much gaiety, color, and musical zest to the parades and special events in Fort Wayne. As proof of its excellence, the Marching Band rated a First Place in the state marching contest this year. In bringing recognition to our school, the Marching Band did a superb job.

Cheerleaders

A game without a cheering section would be pretty dull indeed. With Gene Getty and Tom Meier around, C. C. has never lacked school spirit. Their work over the years is highly commendable. Tom and Gene have welcomed three new boys to their ranks, Jim Burlage, Jim Bloechel, and Vernon Urbine. They have tutored them in the art of good cheerleading so that they are prepared to step in as the head men next year.

The award party is held each year to recognize those girls who have earned enough points to receive awards.
